My Experience:

The Saxton's have worked in Construction for at least four generations, Lance will be the Fifth. I've worked in the trades since I could walk. Working on side projects with my Father Jim Saxton. Many Remodels- where I learned Cabinetry, counter tops, rough framing, finish carpentry, concrete forming, pouring, and finishing- footing, foundations, and flat, hard wood floor Installation, etc.

1971-1973 Worked in the Carpenters Union with & for Dale Saxton , as his layout man for rough framing, and misc finish work

- 1973- 1975 Intermountain Construction / Dean Whiting
 Worked as a concrete finisher, rough framing, and finish carpenter, and was advanced to a construction supervisor building LDS Chapels- In the following areas- Taylorsville, Foot Hill Blvd, Moab, West Jordan
- 1975- 1977 Framing Subcontractor / Building track homes, and Custom Homes
- 1977- 1979 Integral Steel Structures / Mike Pearson (Owner)
 Hired as Concrete and Framing Forman and advised to construction manager over all construction. For this design/ Build construction Company. The company built Steel building and employed a full time Architect and full time Structural Engineer and worked all over the western United States.
- 1979- Present Self Employed / Owner / Operator of KNP Construction, Inc.
 KNP is a Very Competitive, Very Quality Orientated, Very Time Driven, Family owned Construction Company. To Date we have found our niche in Building Restaurants, Retail Building, Banking Building, Auto Repair and Retail outlets, Office Building and Office Warehouse Building (I have included a current list of some of our projects)
 I hope you will notice that KNP Construction has worked over and over for the same national company's to build where ever, and when ever they had need. Our mission is to have repeat customers, that are very satisfied and will recommend us to there business associates and friends. This has made it possible to keep our family owned business busy through all economic conditions, and enabled us to keep many subcontractors (Good Friends) and family busy.
 We find now that with Lance Saxton (Son) joining the business. That he has doubled our business while keeping it very profitable. But we have reached a Plateau where we are going to need to grow and to be bonding more of our projects. I have always stayed with the smaller projects, below 3 million, but Know we are very capable of much larger projects, keeping a larger load of projects on the books.

Final Comments:

Ken Saxton / KNP Construction, Inc. has always paid our bills, has always satisfied our Clients, Has always been very competitive but yet we have always made what I considered a good profit. We are an honest, forthright business company that believes all involved should make money. We have had our ups and downs, but never in 30 years has there been anyone not paid in full for work they have done for us or our clients. We've learned much over the years about how to pay our bills and now use a very worthy lien wavier system that we have found assures that the Subs, are paying there suppliers. So we only have to pay for the work and the supplies once!!

Our goal with our Clients is to do all there work and the work of there business associates and Friends. In our little world we have had good luck with that, and will continue to grow and keep this same outlook, as we have now accentually doubled our Cliental and projects with Lance joining the company and look forward to him being a full partner in the company shortly. He has been brought up with the same ideals and quality as I was. I, We look forward to tackling this economy with the eye of the tiger, We look forward to working with you now and in the future on all your projects and hope you can see that our years of experience will serve you well, in preparing construction costs, in building, and in continuing to be a reliable builder in this ever changing economy. You need to know we are going to be there, that we will not allow our name or reputation be soiled in manner. Thanks for letting me bend your ear, and thanks for your consideration. You well not regret working with us here at KNP Construction, Inc.

Sincerely,

Ken Saxton (President)
